PROSPECKS AHEAD

Most everybody's got 'em, though it's powerful hard to say, wheather they are due immediate, or, at furder distant day. Yet a feller ort to figger, as he chaws his daily bread, —how they meet the gall—or glory—in the prospecks out ahead.

There's nothin' more absorbin' to a feller's heart an' mind, that in tryin' to shape his prospecks to the sort he'd like to find; and, I couldn't think of nothin' that can fill my soul with dread, like a batch of gloomy prospecks which is furder on, ahead!

I aint ashamed to own it,—that the chief of my delights, is, to dream of happy prospecks, as I lay awake of nights . . . And I wake up in the mornin' with my face toward the sky, and the appetite fer battle—mebbe never knowin' why!

While everybody's hopin' fer a better state of things, when they swap these earthly garments fer a pair of heavenly wings,—Yet, they better be particklar in the pathway that they tread, if they'd dodge the fire an' brimstone in the prospecks out ahead!

THE BUDGET IMBROGLIO

A SITUATION that is unique in the history of state politics has originated through the refusal of State Controller Ray L. Riley to draw warrants for all state activities not expressly provided for under the budget says the Oakland Tribune.

To the average citizen the budget and its entanglements have seemed a jumble of figures, and the present situation, which is of grave import, since it definitely ties up the payment of millions in legitimate administrative claims, is imperfectly understood

To unwind this knot it is necessary to go back to election days, when Governor Friend W. Richardson launched his economy program, announcing that, if elected, he intended to keep the State budget of expenditures down to the seventy-nine million dollar mark.

However, there was a colored "gemman" in the woodpile. There are, over and beyond the budget, certain so-called "reourrent appropriations" provided for by previous legislatures which have to be taken care of every two years. And after the Governor had put through his budget, having vetoed various amendments to that document, the matter of these recurrent appropriations was brought up, a majority of assemblymen and senators protesting that the Budget Act required that all expenditures, without exception, should be provided for in the budget. This, it is clear, would have meant a large, but merely apparent increase in the budget. It is evident that inserting these figures would have been a mere matter of book-keeping and that it would not have increased the actual expenditure.

The advantage of putting the recurrent appropriations in the budget would have been a compliance with the Budget Act; avoidance of any possible clash between the budget provisions and the statutes governing recurrent appropriations, and there would have been no danger of tying up any of the State departments through litigation. However, Governor Richardson did not take this viewpoint, and the budget went through in its original form, though a "rider" was added with the avowed object of "legalizing" the recurrent appropriations. This "rider" legislators declared to be insufficient, which viewpoint is shared by Controller Riley, who declares that he is "the watchdog of the people's money."

The matter now goes to the Supreme Court, which will decide on the legality of these budget departures. And should the court hold that the recurrent appropriations must be bodily incorporated in the budget, then a special session of the Legislature becomes necessary. Speedy action on the part of the court is desirable to end an anomalous state of affairs.

ACTED TOO SOON

THE Governor's antagonists expected to have an easy victory in a referendum over the Bromley bill, but such expectations have been ruthlessly dissipated by the chief executive's veto of his own measure. The Governor concluded there was too great a chance of its defeat, or of its constitutionality being successfully attacked, and did not want to stand in such a vulnerable position. That is the way he puts it, while not abating his contention as to the desirability of such a measure. Such a face-about is unusual, as executives generally stand by their policies. The trouble with most of the Richardson moves up to the present time has been that no one appears at the head of anything and it is next to impossible to tell whether a Richardson action is coming or going. It is too bad.

THE REAL FROMAGE IN FACT

Two of Broadway's typical products were invited to spend an evening at the Fifth Avenue home of a wealthy patron. The guests knew a great deal about musical shows and about picking winners at the tracks and, when it came to rolling a sucker for his money, they acknowledged no superiors. But in certain other departments of knowledge both of them were just a trifle shy.

Observing that they seemed somewhat self-conscious, their host undertook to make them feel more at home. He made the mistake, though, of picking on literature as a topic. Across the dinner table he said to one of them:

"How do you like Omar Khayyam?"

"Oh, pretty good," said the person addressed; "but a bottle of this here red Chianti suits me better."

On the way home the second Broadwayite took his friend to task for his ignorance.

"Bo," he said, "when you don't understand a thing, why don't you keep your mouth shut? Why, you big stiff, this here Omar Khayyam ain't no wine. It's a brand of cheese."

IMPORTANT GUEST

Hubby came home and found an argument going on. His wife was trying to give a bridge party.

"What's the row?" he demanded.

"One of the guests is threatening to walk out," explained his wife in a whisper. "I must conciliate her."

"Conciliate nothing. Let her walk out."

"Can't be done, hubby. She'll walk out with six chairs and four bridge tables I borrowed from her."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Willits Will Be A Lavish Host

The Willits News says: "This year, for the Fourth' of July, Willits is to play the host as never before, the decision having been reached by the executive committee of the Willits Chamber of Commerce to put over practically a four-days' celebration.

During the earlier period of the week, President Ralph Duncan, and his associates have been giving their time and thought to the undertaking, the one purpose being to entertain, instruct, and keep the Willits people at home—with their dollars."

Many Going From Here

A wonderful program of sports and entertainment has been arranged and our neighbor city will probably attract a great many people from Ukiah where no celebration is to take place. The general agreement among Ukiah folk is to go to Willits and Covelo on the Fourth of July and, in return, the Round valley people and the citizens of Willits will come here for the Pow-Wow.

Ukiah Wireless Went 6500 Miles

Lynn Wessels is in receipt of a telegram from the American Radio Relay League of Hartford, Connecticut, advising him that in a recent contest, his messages over his powerful radio wireless station at Ukiah, had been received very Q. S. A. in Australia, a distance of over 6500 miles, and extending congratulations on his success, and requested description of apparatus used.

JURY RECOMMENDED MAN BE PLACED ON PROBATION

In a trial before Judge Elmer Busch Thursday last L. E. Eubank was found guilty of possession of liquor, but the jury at the same time recommended he be paroled. It appears the man had a bottle of moonshine in his house and when the officers entered he dumped it into a barrel which contained some old clothing. One of the officers got hold of the clothing and managed to wring enough of the liquor out of the clothing to obtain a specimen which was used as evidence. District Attorney Hurley said, in view of the recommendation of the jury Mr. Eubank be paroled, he would not oppose a parole.

BIG FINE IMPOSED ON A DRIVER OF AN AUTOMOBILE

Because it was shown Sydney Stewart had driven an automobile while intoxicated at Caspar he was fined $500 by Superior Judge Preston last week. The convicted man, it was proven was of good reputation and always had, prior to being in trouble this time, behaved himself. Upon this showing he was allowed 90 days in which to raise the money and, it is understood will be able to pay his fine at the expiration of the limit allowed by the court in which to raise the same.

PRESENTED FACTS TO THE GRAND JURY AS SAFEGUARD

Although District Attorney Hurley did not believe at the time of the slaying Jacob Keifer should be put to any expense in making a defense for killing Louis Huschele, because of the fact the killing was done in self-defense, he thought the matter should be presented to the grand jury and accordingly laid the facts before the jurors last week. The grand jury took the same view of the case as did the coroner's jury and returned no bill.

JUDGE REDWINE SAYS BIG CROWD WILL ATTEND RODEO

Judge G. R. Redwine ,of Covelo was in Ukiah the last of the week on his way back from Santa Maria where he had been visiting his daughter. Judge Redwine stated everyone at Covelo expected big crowd to be in attendance on the Rodeo next month and that everything possible would be done to provide visitors with a good time. Mrs. Redwine accompanied Judge Redwine on the trip south and is much better in health than she has been of late.

HAD MUCH TO DO

Attorney A. L. Wessels, accompanied by his son Lynn Wessels, motored to San Francisco Saturday. Enroute stops were made at Hopland, Cloverdale and Santa Rosa where Mr. Wessels had business matters to attend to. The return was made yesterday.

DANGERS OF A COLD

UKIAH PEOPLE WILL DO WELL TO HEED THEM.

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Ukiah resident's example:

Mrs. R T. Sullivan, 210 Clara Ave., says: "I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a splendid remedy as I have used them on different occasions when my kidneys have been disordered caused by colds settling on them. I felt dull and had no energy and my back was weak and ached so, I could scarcely do my work. Doan's Kidney Pills always relieved these attacks, strengthening my back and kidneys."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Sullivan had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

MANY WHALES ARE TAKEN ALONG MENDOCINO COAST

During the month of May, 113 whales were captured, many off the northern Mendocino coast, and taken to the Trinidad whaling station in Humboldt county. Three whaling boats have been in operation. The payroll for this period was about $27,000, which was distributed among the men employed at the station. The products of each whale do not bring as much as during the war, when they averaged about $2000. According to Capt. Dedrick, every whale now caught brings in the neighborhood of $600, which is below the normal. This brings the total value of the 113 whales up to $67,800.

S. Bassetti and daughters were in Ukiah from their Cloverdale home Friday last. Mr. Bassetti has lately purchased a big ranch near Williams in Colusa county and plans on going there shortly.

OREGONIANS MADE A FAST TRIP—CAME TO WEDDING

Mrs. Clara Lynds, and the Misses Evelyn, Mildred and Luella Lynds and L. J. T. Tynan made up a party of Oregonians who drove from Portland last week to be present at the Lynds-Crawford wedding. They left Portland on Sunday and were at the Wayne Crawford home at Largo Tuesday afternoon. The visitors will remain as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Crawford until after the wedding.

C. W. Brotherton, who was here some weeks at the bedside of his father, who later died, was a passenger for Chicago last week. Mr. Brotherton holds a fine position with a big electric corporation operating in the middle-west.

One good test—

—of the purity and stability of a motor oil is the amount of carbon it forms.

Zerolene forms, on an average, 30% less carbon than other oils. The carbon is soft and fluffy and most of it blows out with the exhaust. For this reason the Zerolene-lubricated automobile may be driven from 25% to 50% farther without having the valves ground or the cylinders rebored.

Zerolene forms less carbon than any other motor oil known to us.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does cost less. Ask for it by name—Zerolene.

GASOLINE TAX TO BEGIN SEPT. 1ST

When the two Breed bills, which became laws recently by the signature of Governor Friend W. Richardson, become effective at midnight August 31 of this year, California motorists will begin paying for the use of the roads and highways in much the same way they now pay for electricity, gas and water. They will be metered for the use of the highways and will pay for their maintenance in proportion to the amount and kind of use they make of these roadways.

Pay as You Use Them

Motorists who only use the highways occasionally will pay very little as in the case of the man who uses electricity only to light his house. On the other hand, the motorist who uses the highways a great deal for pleasure purposes or utilizes them for business and commercial gain will pay a bigger bill, as does the man who uses electricity to operate his machine shop or run a pumping plant.

Starts September First

On September 1, when the new motor vehicle laws go into effect, the average California motorist who owns an automobile and operates it for personal and pleasure purposes will begin paying an average annual tax of $13.34 for the maintenance and reconstruction of the highways and roads in this state.

How It Works Out

A part of this amount the motorist will begin paying on September 1 in the form of a gasoline tax of 2 cents a gallon on all gasoline he purchases for use in his automobile. The balance, a sum of $3, will be collected annually by the state, beginning in 1924, for registering his motor car with the State Motor Vehicle Department. This latter figure is the charge the state makes for providing a highway system, like the minimum charge the power company makes for providing electric service.

These figures are supplied by the California State Automobile association, which made an exhaustive study of gasoline consumption statistics previous to its adoption of a policy advocating a gasoline tax to raise funds for the maintenance of California highways.
